Most people with disability participate in the open workforce at full pay rates. However, some people are unable to find or keep a job at full wage rates due to the effect of disability on their workplace productivity.

The Supported Wage System increases employment opportunities for people with disability through giving employers the opportunity to pay a productivity-based wage.

How CVGT help:

- ✓ Assistance to complete Supported Wage System application
- ✓ Organise an independent assessor to conduct a workplace productivity assessment
- ✓ Provide a wage subsidy to encourage businesses to hire a person with disability*
- ✓ Stay in touch to ensure a smooth transition into work and to make sure the employer and employee are happy.
